FRESHMAN CAST IN READINESS FOR "THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH"

Wig and Pen Presents Popular Play Twice This Week

For the first time in the recent history of Middlebury dramatics, a play will be produced with a cast made up entirely of freshmen when Wig and Pen presents "The Goose Hangs High" in the Playhouse Thursday and Friday nights. It has been the custom for some time to have a Junior Play during Junior Week and a Senior play at Commencement but this year the custom of having each class present a play is being inaugurated.

Although the freshmen lack the dramatic experience of the upperclassmen, they have made up for it in the amount of time and effort put into the rehearsals and as a result a finished performance is promised in the two public presentations of the play this week. The play itself has been an unusually successfcl one every place that it has been produced and promises to be very popular at Middlebury. It was successful in its presentation at the Bijou Theatre in New York and the Plymouth Theatre at Boston last year and now is being used by a large number of college dramatic clubs throughout the country.

It is a play exceptionally well suited to a college cast and especially of interest to a college audience. The twins of the Ingals family who are away at college and who return for the Christmas holidays are the central figures in the play throughout. Mary-Alice Drake and Raymond F. Bosworth are playing the parts of the twins, Lois and Bradley. The characters of Bernard Ingals and his wife, Eunice, are of equal importance and probably call for the most skilful acting of any of the parts. They are being capably taken by David H. McLean and Margaret Harworth. Hugh Ingals, an older brother to the twins is being played by Raymond Saulnier while that of Dagmar Carroll, his fiancee is taken by Helen Walter. Miss Walter is playing the part with only a little over a week's preparation, owing to rearrangement of the roles. The only part in the entire cast which can be called a character study is that of Granny, the mother of Mrs. Ingals. Elizabeth McDermott takes this role. There are also seven other members of the cast.

A great deal of work has been done on the stage setting for the play and the directors promise that it will be one of the most unique seen this year. The same set is used for all three acts. Furniture has been supplied by several of the local stores. Some of the costumes have been furnished by Hanks, while W. W. Calhoun has supplied the electrical fixtures.

The work of producing and directing the play has been in charge of J. Audrey Clark '26. Tickets for both productions are still available at Frost's. Dramatic club members may secure their reduction only on seats sold for Thursday evening.

Standard Oil Representative Coming

P. W. Boynton of the Standard Oil Company of New York, Albany Department, Domestic Service, will be at the college Tuesday, March 23rd, to talk with any who would be interested in making a connection with the Company in the Sales Department or General business. Any men who may wish to interview Mr. Boynton may make an appointment through the office of the Dean.

PHI BETA KAPPA HAS INITIATION

Fifteen members of the class of 1926 were formally initiated into the Middlebury Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at exercises held in chapel this morning. An academic procession in which were resident members of the society, the initiates, and the college choir marched into the chapel. The initiation ceremony was in charge of Professor William S. Burrage and Professor Raymond H. White. The annual initiation banquet is to be held in the Addison House at 7:30 this evening.

HOT NET BATTLE IN GYM TONIGHT

Neutrals and Dekes, Each With Victory Over Other, To Fight It Out

A battle royal will be staged in the gymnasium tonight when the Neutrals meet Delta Kappa Epsilon for the intramural basketball championship of the college and the second leg on the Sage trophy. Each team holds a victory over the other in the championship series and tonight's game will consequently be the deciding one.

Last Wednesday night the Neutrals beat the Dekes 21 to 18 in the first game of the final series. Monday night, D. K. E. staged a strong rally after having been four points behind at the end of the half and won by a score of 23 to 18. It was the first game that the Neutrals had lost since they dropped the first game on the schedule last January to Chi Psi.

In the first game of the championship series, both teams showed excellent defensive work and during the first half there was not a great deal of scoring. When the half ended the Neutrals were on the long end of an 8 to 4 score.

The D. K. E.'s came back in the third period determined to win the game and by outpassing and outshooting the Neutrals gained a lead of 8 points. They were not able to keep up this pace however and the Neutrals rallied and were leading by three points when the final whistle blew. Although there was no great individual scoring because of the strong defensive playing, Ferry and Goldstein of the Neutrals and McChesney of the D. K. E.'s played outstanding games.

The second game was a rather similar affair except that if anything, it was even more hotly contested. The Neutrals got away to a 10 to 6 lead in the first half. D. K. E. came back strong in the third quarter and piled up their winning lead although they were in danger until the last minute of play. During the last few minutes the game was exceedingly fast and rough. McChesney and Willis starred for the winning team while Ferry and Marchukaitis again put up the best game for the Neutrals.

M'MILLAN PORTRAYS WONDERS OF ARCTIC FOR PACKED HOUSE

Predicts Dirigible Will Be Developed For Northern Exploration

Donald MacMillan, famous Arctic explorer, gave an illustrated lecture of his great expedition to the polar regions to a large and attentive audience last Thursday evening in the Town Hall. Everyone who was fortunate enough to obtain a seat was exceptionally repaid by a very interesting and instructive lecture. Capt. MacMillan, after being introduced by. Prof. P. S. Voter, head of the Chemistry department, gave a resume of arctic exploration and of some of the theories relative to the arctic region. "The Norsemen who discovered America 400 years before Columbus were the first Arctic explorers," said Captain MacMillan. "Since then many have wondered what lay beyond the far northern mountains and scientists have not been slow to advance theories regarding what they believed to be the conditions within the Arctic circle. One of these theories claimed that because of the great centrifugal force produced by the rapid rotation of the earth no ice could remain on a polar sea. Another theory, claimed the earth to be in the form of a hollow cylinder, open at both ends with another vast civilization on the inside. The Northern lights resulted from the reflection of large prairie fires burning on the inside of the cylinder. As for modern polar exploration, the fact that the south pole is located on

COLBY IS FIRST TO DEFEAT BLUE DEBATING TEAM

Unanimous Vote Is Given Maine College; Best Debate of Year

After having been successful in three forensic contests, Middlebury lost the decision for the first time this year when the varsity debating trio met Colby College at Waterville, Maine, Friday evening. Although the team was better both in argumentation and delivery than in either the home bebate against New Hampshire or the Vermont debate, the judges voted unanimously for Colby. Both sides presented strong arguments and its was the best debate in which Middlebury has participated this year.

The Blue was represented on the platform by James S. Jackson '26, William T. Hade '26 and Dana S. Hawthorne '26, captain. They upheld the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the coal mines of the United States should be owned and operated by the federal government." Although the team had been forced to revise its case within a period of two days on account of the fact that previous debates had included only the anthracite question, the men showed a marked improvement in their work on the platform. Hawthorne again held the interest of the audience by adding a touch of humor to the question and closed the case with a very strong summary.

The Colby team was made up of Herbert C. Jenkins '27, Kenneth H. Cassens '28 and Frank T. Adams '27. Jenkins was the most effective speaker.

HASSELTINE NAMED BASKETBALL CAPT'N.

Erwin K. Hasseltine '27, of Bristol was elected captain of basketball at a meeting of the letter men held after Undergraduate Association meeting last night. "Hassy" is a veteran of three years on the team. His work as guard was especially good in the last few games of the past season. He also played at first base for two years on the varsity baseball team. Hasseltine holds the unique record of being the only man in the junior class who has won a letter in a major sport. He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and of Delta Tau and Sages. The only other letter man on the team next fall will be Sorenson, the freshman who played center during the last half of the season. The letter men who will be lost to the team will be Captain Rice, W. Rice, Knowles, Towne and McNeil.

OUTLINE PLAN TO CHOOSE MANAGERS

Proposal Will Take Power From Undergraduate Association

A drastic revision of the method of electing assistant managers of athletic teams, which includes taking the vote out of the hands of the undergraduate body and placing it in the hands of a few who are well acquainted with the situation, will soon be put into operation at Middlebury, if plans drawn up by the Athletic Council and approved last night by the Undergraduate Association are put into effect.

According to the proposed amendment to the by-laws of the Athletic Council, assistant managers will be elected by a vote of the captain-elect of the team, the assistant manager, the coach and the majority of the letter men on the team. This will make four votes and in case of a tie the Athletic Council will cast one vote. According to the Constitution of the Athletic Council, the proposed change can be put into effect by a vote of the body alone but in order to get student sentiment on it, it was discussed at last night's Undergraduate meeting. Sentiment seemed to be generally in favor of it, although there was some discussion as to the possible advisability of having the entire squad instead of just the letter men, vote. The body went on record as favoring the plan as proposed by the Athletic Council. It is understood that the plan meets with general approval among the members of the Council so it is probable that it will be finally approved and put into effect in the near future. As in the past, the assistant manager will automatically become manager in his senior year.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

Art. V. to be amended as follows:

Sec. 1. The assistant manager in each department shall be elected not later than two weeks after the last intercollegiate contest in that department. He shall be elected from the Sophomore candidates for assistant manager by a majority of the votes cast according to the directions in the following section.

He shall hold office for one year, and at the expiration of his term, at the same meeting of the Council at which his successor is elected, he shall be elected manager for the ensuing year, by a majority of the votes cast by the Athletic Council.

Sec. 2. One vote for assistant manager shall be allowed each of the fol-

TRACK OUTLOOK FOR COMING SEASON IS DECIDEDLY GLOOMY

Ineligibility Has Hit Team Severely; Large Squad Is At Work

"The Ineligibility Blues" are being played long and loudly these days by the members of the Middlebury track band, under the leadership of Conductor A. M. Brown. This number was not selected voluntarily but rather of necessity for the prospects of the Blue and White track squad are far from rosy this spring due to the toll that semester marks and eligibility rules have taken. A number of the most promising men that Coach Brown had are now either among the missing or if present are able to lend only their moral support to the team. Donald who was sure to account for ten points in every meet, is lost to the squad this spring as is also Westfall who was due in the discus and high jump. Firman, a letter man of last year who looked good for the sprints this spring has left college, and Sherman, another likely looking prospect, is prevented from showing his ability because of scholastic difficulties.

Coach Brown has had the squad of 45 men working out for the past two months and while the men have showed up fairly well thus far there is no reason for an especially optimistic outlook this season. The men have been divided into groups with the sprinters, hurdlers and jumpers working out together, the middle distance and distance men in another group and the weight men and pole vaulters in third group.

In the hurdles Capt. Schaeffer and Blanchette are showing up the best so far while "Gil" Smith, a freshman, is showing real stuff in the sprints. A back injury has temorarily put him out of the running but Coach Brown hopes to have him in top form for the first meet. F. K. Smith, another freshman, is showing up well along with Irons and a number of others who are expected to develop speed and form in the next few weeks.

Several men are showing fair ability in the pole vault this season among them being Hinman, Waldo, Williams '29, Tomlinson and Roberts. "Hank" Potter looks the best in the shot and it is probable that the brunt of this event will fall on the well trained shoulders of Middlebury's 1925 football captain. Davis is also coming along in good shape and McLaughlin will have the weight events and the hammer throw pretty much to himself this spring, according to present indications.

In the javelin throw Middlebury will again have "Doc" Eddy who has been a stellar performer the past two seasons and he will be assisted by Hinman, Ellsworth and Schmidt, the latter having shown unusual promise in the early workouts.

Coach Brown is depending on Whiting to do the two-mile stunt and Kelly will probably be groomed for this event also. Dodd will be the best bet in the mile run and he may be utilized in

SHOULD WOMEN SWEAR?

"Woman—once man's superior, now his equal." The tendency in recent years seems to be for women to adopt habits and practices which were formerly exercised solely by men. Many of these changes are certainly to be received with hearty approval as the distinguishing marks of an enlightened social order. The elimination of many of the monstrosities of dress has been indeed sane. Greater participation in outdoor sports has resulted in better health and increased physical vigor and beauty. The opening of wider fields in education, business; and politics has opened the way to a greater field of usefulness to the women of the world.

But along with these changes there have come others with a value that is somewhat open to question. Of the latter class, in particular, is the use of profanity among women. There is probably no justifiable reason why a man should have any more right to swear than should a woman. The day of distinction between man's rights and woman's rights has passed. But it is not merely a matter of right. It is more than that; it is a matter of decency. A woman also has a right to indulge in a score of other vulgar practices—if she so chooses. She may lie, she may steal, she may be licentious, or she may scuffle in the dust, if she is that sort of woman.

Aside from the moral considerations involved, the use of profanity constitutes an exhibition of very poor taste. The woman who swears, at once degrades herself. She looses her own self-respect. She unwittingly lowers herself among the common and vulgar. There has always been a small class of women who have stigmatized themselves by smoking, swearing and other allied practices. There is no need to name the group.

Swearing, in man or woman, is an admission of weakness. It is indicative of a lack of emotional control. It reveals a narrow mind and a cramped vocabulary.

Of course women have a right to swear!

WILFUL CHILDREN

There is nothing more difficult than to make the human race understand something which it does not in the least desire to understand. In this respect it resembles the kitten which continually plays with its mistress' best fern. Repeated spankings and scoldings have but a momentary effect, for a half hour later the kitten will be joyously teasing the ends of the fern.

The student body of this college displays the characteristics of the unable-to-be-chastised kitten and illustrates the above mentioned principle, namely, that you cannot teach man something he refuses to be taught. Time and time again we have been asked, begged, and besought to maintain silence throughout chapel service whether silence be contrary to our inclinations or not. Lectures, editorials, communications and scoldings produce the desired effect for a day or two but in no time at all we are at it again, making the chapel hum more than ever with our needless communications with our neighbors. The situation is indeed serious when even appeals to our honor and thoughtfulness bring no results. It must be that we do not realize what people expect of a group of men and women who are pursuing higher education. The situation which exists during chapel morning after morning is one which people might expect to find in boarding school, but even the primary department of the Sunday school is not permitted to carry on the way we do. It is imperative that something be done. Are we to continue to act like spoiled children or are we to conduct ourselves as should become our age and situation? Although all of us may not be entirely grown up in mind, still our outward appearance would lead people to think that we could act like men and women of intelligence. There is absolutely no reason why we can't all do our part to make Chapel service all that it ought to be. All the others do their part and certainly we can at least be quiet.

Prexy's Skill at Landing Florida Sharks Is Extolled in Verse

Come hither, bobbed hair beauties,
Your musty text-books park,
And hear how Dr. Moody
Landed a five-foot shark.
He didn't stop to lecture
Or give him a degree;
But, being a stout Yankee,
He yanked him from the sea.

And its now, beware me hearties,
As he thrashes on the deck,
Beware his dental outfit
And hit him on the neck.
And swipe him with a hammer,
Until you quench his dander,
Then three times three, repeat it,
For Moody, his brave lander!

Prof. Davison Speakes at Y. W.

Frances Harder, '26, was in charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting last night. Prof. W. E. Davison was the speaker. His subject was "What Shall I Do With My Life?" Prof. Davison pointed out that there are two ways of using one's life; first, as Christ did, for the advantage of others, regardless of ourselves, losing life physically, but gaining it spiritually, in the end; second, using our life solely for our own material gains, and losing it both physically and spiritually in death.

NEW PROFESSOR IN PHYSICS NEXT YEAR

E. W. Cheney, Dartmouth '20, Will Take Place of Prof. Bryant Who Will Have Sabbatical Leave

Elliott W. Cheney, a graduate of Dartmouth College in the class of 1920, and at present a graduate student in The Hun School at Princeton University, has been elected acting head of the department of Physics for next year, which will be the sabbatical year of Professor Ernest C. Bryant, head of the department since 1895.

Mr. Cheney received the degree of A. B. from Dartmouth in 1920 and that of M. S. from Brown in 1925. He is now working for the Ph.D. degree in Princeton University, his research problem being to determine the effect of temperature changes upon the index of refraction of gases. Mr. Cheney was instructor of Physics at Syracuse University from 1920-1921, Instructor of Physics at Brown University 1921-24, and has since held the Charles A. Coffin Fellowship at Princeton University. He is a member of the Theta Chi and Sigma Xi fraternities, The American Physical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Freshmen Girls Defeat Juniors In Close Game

Seniors Also Win; '26 vs. '29 Next Week in Championship Game

The freshmen won an exciting game from the juniors in women's interclass basketball last night, the final score being 19 to 18. Two regulars, Drake and Avery, were missing from the lineup, but the "subs", Gates and Manty, did more than their share in helping to win the game. At the end of the first half the score was 10-8 in favor of the freshmen. The second half was nip and tuck but '29 came out on top. The defense, especially on the part of Sibley, Tudhope and Sedgwick, was splendid. Captain Marchiano scored 15 points, and Comptois 4; while Derrick accounted for 9 and Norton 8 of the juniors' score. This victory makes the freshmen tie with the seniors for the interclass championship, which will be played off next Tuesday.

The game between the seniors and the sophomores was a walkaway for the class of '26. Loose playing was the main feature during the first half, but the seniors tightened up considerably and won by a large margin. The sophomore defense, Holden, Carrick, and Robinson, was very good, but the forwards lacked team-work. The final score was 53 to 14.

Hasseltine vs. Hindes in Final

The college squash tennis championship will be decided when Hasseltine '27 meets Hindes '28. Hasseltine came through by defeating Lavery '28 and Pratt '28. Hindes beat Wolfskehl '27 and Marchukaitis '28, who had previously won from Allen '26.

Debaters Take First Defeat From Colby

'23, professor of chemistry at Colby, presided over the debate. The judges were Hon. Clyde E. Smith of Skowhegan, P. A. Smith, Esq., of Fairfield and Rev. Frank S. Dolloff of Winslow.

After having debated the negative of the coal question in each debate so far this year, the team will now change over to the affirmative for the two debates remaining on the schedule. The trio will meet the undefeated Boston College team at Boston next Tuesday evening and will close the season against the University of Maine at Orono Thursday, March 25. Last year, Middlebury won a decision over Maine on the home platform. The team which will participate in these debates has not yet been picked, it being possible that one or two of the new men on the squad will be given a chance to show their forensic ability.

Opportunities In Public Accountant's Offices

The American Institute of Accountants desires to bring to the attention of the senior class and other undergraduates in a selected list of colleges and universities the opportunities open to young men in public accountants' offices. Middlebury has been included in this list and the Institute plans to distribute a printed brochure to such students as would be interested. Any who would like to have copies of this booklet describing the opportunities in this field should leave their names at the office of the Dean of the Men's College.

PRESS COMMENT

(From the Glens Falls Post-Star)

Middlebury College Band, Playing Here, Is Well Received

An enthusiastic and appreciative audience enjoyed a splendid concert in the auditorium of the Junior High school last night, rendered by the Middlebury college band, assisted by the male quartet of the Middlebury Glee club.

Under the capable direction of Joseph F. Lechnyr, the band of about thirty pieces played a series of numbers that appealed to the audience and the applause which followed each selection was a splendid tribute to the ability of the musicians and their leader. The same was true of a group of songs sung by the quartet, and two special features.

New Courses Added in Biblical Literature

Problems in Old and New Testament Will Enable Completion of Minor in Department

According to plans recently approved, the department of Biblical Literature is to be reorganized and enlarged next year, two additional courses, Biblical Literature 3 and 4 having been added to the two courses formerly taught by President Moody and carried this year by Professor F. C. Thompson. These new courses, the first dealing with problems of the Old Testament and the second with problems of the New Testament, will make it possible for a minor to be secured in this department. Professor Thompson will have charge of the reorganized department and will also teach some of the courses in the department of Sociology, thereby enabling Professor Kingsley to devote more of his time to the course in Contemporary Civilization (Sociology 3 and 4) which is required of all freshmen.

land makes it much easier to reach than the north pole which is in the midst of an ever-changing ice pack which can be traveled over only during a few months of the year."

The 8000 feet of motion pictures and the lecture with which MacMillan accompanied them furnished a clear, and interesting account of the progress of last summer's expedition. The pictures showed the departure from Wiscasset, Maine, of MacMillan's two ships, the "Bowdoin" and the "Peary," the latter carrying three large amphibian planes furnished by the navy department; the coasts of Labrador and Greenland; the "Bowdoin" breaking its way through a large ice pan; many views of icebergs; life of the Esquimeaux; methods of hunting walrus; bird life; travel with dog teams and the building of snow houses.

The object of this last expedition was to explore from the air some of the large areas between the arctic circle and the pole which were believed to consist of land. Although in its present state of development the dirigible is not practical for Arctic exploration because of its inability to operate at extremely low temperatures, MacMillan declared that for future Arctic exploration the dirigible will be used rather than the one-engine, heavier-than-air machine, which was found to be impractical because of the scarcity of suitable landing places.

NEW INSTRUCTORS FOR ENGLISH DEPT.

Owen '23 to Become Faculty Member; New Man for Dramatics

Because of the fact that Professor Frank W. Cady will be away from Middlebury on sabbatical leave next year, and because of the large increase in the number of students in the English department it has been found necessary to add two new teachers in the department for the coming year.

The work in Play Production now carried by Professor Cady and the new course in Creative Writing, as well as the courses in Debating and Public Speaking, will be given by Mr. William Northrop Morse, a graduate of Amherst College in the class of 1904.

Entering college from Phillips Andover Academy, Mr. Morse received the A. B. degree from Amherst, later being granted the M. A. degree from the same institution. After graduation he studied for a year at Harvard, receiving the M. A. degree in 1905. He then took up literature as a profession, writing for magazines, newspapers, etc. He enlisted in the U. S. Army during the latter part of the war, having previously engaged in other branches of war work, and after the close of the war was for a time an Americanization Secretary under the International Y. M. C. A. In 1921 he turned to dramatic writing and was a member of the Harvard 47 Workshop, studying under Professor Baker for two years. In 1923-1924 he was an instructor in the English department at George Washington University, since which time he has been pursuing his graduate studies at Harvard and working on his dissertation for the Ph.D. degree.

Mr. Morse is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon and the Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. He is a son of the late Professor A. D. Morse of Amherst College.

Harry G. Owen, Middlebury, '23, has also been appointed to the staff of the English department. After completing his course at Middlebury Mr. Owen did graduate study at New York University, receiving the M. A. degree in 1924. Since September, 1924, he has been a member of the English Faculty of that institution. He is a son of Harry E. Owen, Middlebury, '90, and a great-grandson of John Jason Owen, Middlebury, 1828, one of the most famous classical teachers of his day, and Vice President of New York University. Mr. Owen is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa societies.

Simmons '28 Chosen Captain of Hockey

Carleton H. Simmons '28 of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was chosen captain of hockey for the season of 1926-27, at a meeting of the letter men held last week. Simmons played a good game at wing, especially in the last few games of the season. It was his shot in the last seconds of play that won the Union game. Simmons is also a football man, having been a substitute halfback on the eleven last fall and a member of his freshman team. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. Of the seven men who earned letters during the past season, Capt. McLaughlin, Twichell and Conley will graduate while Captain-elect Simmons and three freshmen, Gruggel, Bossert and Kelley, will make up the nucleus of the team next year.

At last night's meeting of the Undergraduate Association it was voted that, in view of the excellent record made by the hockey team during the past season, sweaters should be awarded to the letter men if the finances of the sweater committee permit it.

Dr. Longwell to Speak at Christian Association

Friday night the Middlebury Christian Association launches an extensive and attractive spring program. The meetings are to be held regularly Friday nights at seven o'clock the rest of the year. A member of the faculty will head the meeting and discussion each week. To make them less informal and to add a genuine collegiate "bull-session" atmosphere they will be held in various student rooms.

Doctor S. E. Longwell is to speak before the association at 19 South Starr Friday evening. He announces his topic as "Emphasis." Everyone interested is invited.

Science Club to Discuss Hypnotic Suggestion

The Science Club will meet Wednesday evening, March 24th, at 8:00 o'clock in the Chemistry lecture room. Professor Haller wil speak to the Club on "The Psychology of Hypnotic Suggestion," and will give several illustrations of the phenomena.

The Club invites all seniors and juniors who are interested in science to be present.

Alpha Sig Beats Beta Kappa; Ties For Third

Alpha Sigma Phi defeated Beta Kappa 24 to 20 last Wednesday evening in the preliminary to the first of the championship games and went into a triple tie with Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kappa Delta Rho for third place in the final standing of the fraternity teams. Each team won three and lost three points during the season. Wolfskehl was high point man for the winners and Lankes for the losers in the Alpha Sig-Beta Kappa game.

Wesleyan Glee Club Wins

Wesleyan University was awarded first place in the annual Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest at Carnegie Hall, New York City, March 8th. Princeton took second place and Kansas, third. Wesleyan had previously won first place at the New England contest in Boston, in which Middlebury participated.

"TO SIN IS TO MISS THE MARK"

Rev. Malcolm Taylor of Boston Gives Gives Interesting Sermon On Sin

Rev. Malcolm Taylor of Boston gave a most interesting sermon on Sin at vespers Sunday. He spoke of the great difference between the traditional capital sins of the past and those which are regarded as the most serious by college students of today. The former are simply attitudes of the heart; the latter are all based upon some principle of dishonesty.

The deriviation of both the Hebrew and the Greek words meaning sin is the same; they signify "to miss the mark." In order to perfect our aim we should have a steady hand, and clear sight. In a moment of folly we often shoot wildly. Afterwards our shame is far greater than the realization of our loss.

Sin is chiefly regarded as committed against God, rather than against the self. Yet, in sinning we are not acting the part of our best selves. Salvation is the direct opponent of sin; it is "hitting the mark". Its teachers have accomplished their task at great cost and self-sacrifice. Sacrifice is one of the greatest steadying powers in our daily life. One of the strong influences in the life of a young man or woman is the recollection of a mother's love or a father's sacrifice. In following the cross we find that sacrifice in its highest sense, and a love which is truly supreme.

Practical Courses Opposed By Bowdoin Committee

Thirteen Bowdoin Seniors were delegated last spring to draw up the undergraduate idea of a program for the college to follow during the next ten years. The report has just been completed and submitted to President K. C. M. Sills to be considered along with a similar study by the faculty, another by the alumni.

"What shall the Bowdoin of the Future be like?" The thirteen asked themselves. Then they passed the query on the frosh, to sophomores, juniors and other seniors in a questionnaire. They analyzed the questionnaire, deliberated, and composed a document of fifty-five typewritten pages.

In the next ten years, the report, directs Bowdoin should:

Not add any "practical" courses, designed to facilitate earning a living, that is for the graduate schools, not the liberal college.

Appoint teachers who are not "learned pundits, not parroting pedagogues, but live men of intellect, men of attractive personality, men who have demonstrated their ability to teach."

Have as required for freshmen, an introductory course in evolution, a course in Biblical literature.

Stiffen major requirements.

Continue present policy of faculty coaches.

Abolish certificate system and require the passage of entrance examinations.

Limit enrollment to five hundred.

Give student council more power and duties, delegate to it sole power to recommend to faculty all disciplinary action to be taken on a student.

Assistant Prof. Elbert C. Cole of the biological department of Williams college has recently been appointed a member of the faculty of the marine biological laboratory at Wood's Hole. He will conduct the course in invertebrate zoology next summer.

BAND HAS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Excellent Concerts Given; Good Time Enjoyed By Members

The college band arrived home late Friday night after a most successful two-day trip. At all of the performances which the band gave, every member seemed to catch the spirit of the occasion and the result was three excellent concerts.

Leaving Thursday morning the band arrived at Fort Edward, N. Y., shortly before noon where dinner was served in the vestry of the Methodist church. At 3:30 the first concert was given in the High school auditorium. A special trolley car then transported the boys to Glens Falls where rooms were assigned in the Y. M. C. A. building. The second concert was given in the large High school auditorium that evening. The band left the city the following day at 1:45, arriving at Brandon for its seven o'clock engagement and returning to Middlebury on the late train.

Features of the trip were a swim in the fine Y. M. C. A. pool at Glens Falls and a trip through the large paper mill of the Finch Pruyn Company where the process of paper manufacture was seen from the grinding of the wood pulp to the wrapping and packing of the big newspaper rolls. After dinner "speeches" by Dean Wiley and Director Lechnyr proved a popular feature of the meals and a wonderful stimulus for enthusiasm. The excellent work of the organization is shown in the fact that it has received an invitation from a High school principal, who attended the Glens Falls performance, to present its concert in another New York town.

Special credit is due Dean Wiley, Mr. Lechnyr, the College Quartet, and Gordon Wiley, '28, who had much to do with the arrangement of the trip, for their share in this highly successful event.

BLUE'S SUCCESS ON TRACK IS ANALYZED

Vermont Coach Attributes It to The Large Number Why Try Out For The Sport

In a signed article in the "Vermont Cynic" last week, E. R. Latty, the Vermont track coach, attributes Middlebury's success in track in recent years to the large number of men who have been out for the sport and calls upon the undergraduates of the university to try out for the sport. His work last year produced a team which wrested the state championship from the Blue for the first time in ten years, and although he has only twenty men on his squad at present as compared to Middlebury's forty-five, the prospects of another Vermont victory seem fairly bright for the Green and Gold is showing good form in practise.

Coach Latty's article, in part, is as follows:

A few days ago I ran across the Middlebury Kaleidoscope of last year. I happened to turn to the section containing the members of last year's Senior class, and glancing over the names "en passant" I noticed that a number of the men had included among other honors the words "Track Squad." Thereupon a suspicion flashed through my mind and "animo comprobandi," I began to count the men in the Senior class: Total 72. Then I reviewed the list, picking out the men who, in course of their four years, had been out for track: Total 24. 33 1-3 per cent.! Need I say more? Shall I investigate further to find the cause of Middlebury's success in track for the last decade? Here we are, Vermonters, numbering over 700 men. I don't know what numerical male strength Middlebury has, but I would guess nearly 400. And yet we have let them trample all over us for nearly 10 years in track. (I may also add, in some other sports.) Are Vermonters less physically able, are they less gritty, are they poorer trainers, or don't they give a darn? It's pretty difficult to lay one's finger on the exact cause, but I am of the opinion that it's a case of "spirit." Imagine if we had one-third of our men out for track! Even one-tenth would be highly satisfactory.

Track is coming into its own here at Vermont, just as it has during the last 10 years entered very emphatically in nearly all colleges. The frenzied breaking of all records during that time throughout the United States illustrates and proves this point. Track, in its modern proportions, is something new, and Middlebury and the Massachusetts colleges got the jump on us.

We are beginning to get the spirit. There are more than twenty men now out for track. When we get outdoors I know that the number will be greatly increased. We had a good deal of spirit last year, it is continuing this year; I hope it increases next year. But even though the spirit is good compared with former years, there are many good track men, sure letter men, who either are not coming out for track at all, or are waiting for the outdoor season. It is well known by track men that a runner cannot begin to do his best with merely one month's training. This is the time to start training for the May track meets.

If Vermont had 50 men out for track, working hard all winter, we would stand high in track circles.

the two-mile run also. Sheehan, a freshman looks fairly good in this event as do a number of other new men. Arnold will take the half-mile turn and Burrows, a freshman with considerable reputation as a quarter-miler will be able to give Brooks and Stewart a good race in the quarter. Stoughton and C. G. Hoyt will also do the mile and half mile respectively.

Potter has been shown up very well in the high jump in pre-season practise and Roberts and Walker both look fair for this event.

Thus far most of the practise, with the exception of the middle distance and distance events has been held indoors but the entire squad will get out of doors as soon as weather conditions show any sign of permanent improvement.

The men who comprise the squad at present are as follows: Capt. Schaeffer, McLaughlin, Potter, Kelly, Yeaw, W. D. Harris, Walker, Cornell, G. Harris, Sheldon, Finnegan, Adams, Dix, Stoughton, Lavery, Jones, Dunz, Blanchette, C. G. Hoyt, Arnold, Brooks, Davis, Stearns, Clark, Dodd, Whitney, Stewart, Roberts, J. Hoyt, R. New Plan Is Outlined For Choice of Managers lowing: Coach, Captain-elect and assistant manager for the season just completed of that department. One vote shall be allowed the team, consisting of the letter men of the season just completed, and not including the manager of that season, or the Captain-elect for the following season. One vote shall be allowed the Athletic Council following the disclosure of the result of the votes of the other parties to the election, delivered to the Graduate Manager and opened by him, at the meeting of the Athletic Council held for this purpose.

Sec. 3. The vote of the team shall be taken at its meeting held in accordance with Article VII, Section 1 of these By-laws. Following the election of Captain, the manager presiding shall turn the meeting over to the Graduate Manager who shall take the vote for assistant manager. The vote shall be taken by secret ballot upon the names of all candidates for the assistant managership, and counted by the Graduate Manager. The person receiving the majority of the votes thus cast shall receive the vote of the team in the final election. In case of a tie in this vote, the Manager shall vote to break the tie.

Sec. 4. The Graduate Manager shall make a recommendation to the parties to the election as to the business ability of the candidates, based upon the rating of an examination to be given by the President of the Council and himself on five day's notice before the close of the season. This examination shall be rated on a basis of 100 per cent.

Sec. 5. All candidates for the office of Assistant Manager shall work the same number of hours, and a record of the hours of work of each candidate shall be kept by the assistant manager, who shall place it in hands of the Graduate Manager weekly.

Sec. 6. The candidates for assistant manager shall be members of the Sophomore Class and shall report for duty at the call of the manager prior to the season for each department.

Sec. 7. If the manager or assistant manager shall withdraw from College or be removed from office, their successors shall be chosen from the students who were candidates with them by an election similar to the one provided in this article.

Sec. 8. Managers and Assistant Managers may be removed by the Athletic Council at its discretion, and an office may be declared vacant, and may be filled as provided in the preceding section.

Sec. 9. Unless by special action of the Athletic Council, no student holding any office of manager shall, during his term of office, be a member of the department team of which he is manager; nor may he hold in the same year a second office as manager.

"SHORTY" RICE HOLDS HIGH POINT HONORS

Playing at Guard, Captain Totaled 103 Points During Past Basketball Season

Captain "Shorty" Rice led his team in scoring during the past season despite the fact that he played at guard, according to figures on the teams scoring which have recently been compiled and announced by Grant W. Johnson, manager. "Shorty" scored 103 points during the course of the season while "Bill" Rice was second with 63. Opposing teams totaled 417 points during the season, as compared to a total of 379 scored by Middlebury, a difference of 38.

The highest score made in any one game by the Blue quintet was 44, tallied against Williams in an overtime game while the opponents were making 37 points which was the highest scored against the team by any one combination. Middlebury's low score was 13 in the Union game while the lowest opponents' score was 16, by M. A. C. The Rice brothers divided honors for high scoring in a single game, each finding the hoop for 15 points in the Williams game. Prentice of Vermont in the game played here, made 14 points for the highest individual score against the Blue. Individual scoring on the Middlebury team was as follows: R. L. Rice 103, W. R. Rice 63, Towne 54, Knowles 49, Sorenson 45, Maynard 26, Palmer 20, McNeil 8, Hasseltine 6, Collins 3, Ryan 2.

To Hold a May Day Poetry Tournament

Following a fourteenth century French custom, perpetuated in the "Jeux Floreaux" of literary France, a Poetry Tournament, open to all undergraduates, both men and women, in New England universities and colleges, will be held in Boston on May 1st, under the auspices of the Second Church Chapter of the Laymen's League.

A Golden Rose, the work of a French jeweller, offered last year, and won by Prof. Earl Marlatt, of Boston Universtiy, under different conditions of competition, will again become the prize of the poet who must felicitously interprets the genius of May Day.

The judges who have agreed to pass upon the merits of the poems submitted are: Prof. Bliss Perry, of Harvard, Prof. Chauncey Brewster Tinker, of Yale, and Miss Abbie Farwell Brown, President of the New England Poetry Club.

Competitors will send poems, signed with a nom de plume, to Mr. J. Russell Abbott, Secretary, 41 Osborne Road, Brookline, Mass., on or before Saturday, April 17, a separate envelope with the author's name and address accompanying the poem. No limit of length or standard of form has been set.

From these anonymous poems the judges will select three to be read in person, or by deputy, at the Poetry Tournament in Boston, on May 1st, the Golden Rose then and there being awarded for possession until the next annual competition.

All poems submitted will be duly returned to their authors, the Chapter claiming no right to permanent possession or to publication.
